

iCAP Education Team May Agenda

** Meeting notes are in blue; action items are highlighted**

Monday, May 4th

12:00-1:00pm; National Soybean Research Laboratory (Collaboratory)

Attendees: Eric Green, Miriam Keep, Jimena Martinez, Katie Jaszowski, Katy Mike Smaistrla, Mia Anguiano, Elliot Topp, Luis Rodriguez

Absentees: Sam Lindgren, Kate Abney, Gretchen Foreman

Updates

1. Sustainability in Study Abroad
    - UIUC is a part of a global emissions tracker program
    - UIUC has student sustainability form
  2. Undergraduate Levenick Scholars Program
    - 6 applications were received
    - 2 applications were asked to revise their approaches slightly
    - I currently anticipate all 6 will be funded, though this is to be confirmed
  3. Green Career Forum
    - discussion about it occurring in the fall?
    - Will try to collaborate with SESE and Sustainable Design
1. Discussion on how to connect/cross-collaborate between iCAP teams
    - Build a network
    - Idea to push back the iCAP kickoff until teams are more solidified in their roles
  2. Brainstorming for next year in alignment with new iCAP objectives:
    - Integrating sustainability into learning outcomes --> contact Kathy Martensen about this process
    - Informational videos to supplement as sustainability education
    - Idea for in person workshop to maximize engagement --> could go to classes and tailor it to the course specific content
    - Targeting intro level courses --> either larger lectures or discussion level

- Idea to create a follow up survey with additional survey gather a metric of engagement
- Interactive slideshow presentation
- Leadership certificate one time program --> can we create a sustainability certificate
  - > Structure is 4 workshops and 2 labs (both online and in person hybrid opportunities)
  - > Must be in a team experience and take one leadership based course
- Improve existing courses
- Sustainability Literacy Assessment --> builds a community of practice
- Create experiential learning opportunities --> Undergraduate Levenick Scholars Program