6. Please describe marketing and promotion efforts for the duration of the project. *

   Our organization actively promoted these programs in various social media spaces, as well as in-person outreach events. For example, Facebook, Instagram, Discord, Quad Day, tabling events, and department outreach events. Additionally, we put up flyers around campus. All marketing and promo materials mentioned SSC's generous contributions.

7. Please describe how your project faced challenges or obstacles during the duration of development. *

> The biggest challenge of this project was capacity. As our executive team became more busy with their academics, it was challenging to equally distribute tasks. However, all programs went off without a hitch and had great attendance and feedback.

8. Please describe in detail how your project has integrated student involvement, community outreach, and campus sustainability. *

> This funding provided programs to students only. Participants received an environmental education workshop from field experts, then got to participate in hands-on learning activities. They left the workshop with new knowledge, as well as the materials to grow their own food in a sustainable, dorm/apartment-friendly way.

9. If applicable, please explain how the project engaged individuals from underrepresented groups and/or promote diversity, equity, and inclusion. *

> Food insecurity (especially fresh food) largely impacts those from underrepresented groups. Our programs were free and open to the campus community in hopes of reaching those communities.
