Project Description:

iSEE focuses on environmental outreach and leads many campus sustainability efforts. There is high demand for additional public-facing composting/food-waste reduction drop-off opportunities, beyond what currently exists. This project aims to add five compost tumblers to highly-visible campus locations to collect food waste, coffee grounds, shredded paper, etc., ultimately creating nutrient-rich compost used to fertilize the pollinator garden on the south side of the NSRC building with opportunities for further expansion. This project provides an educational opportunity intended to engage students, staff, and faculty and embed sustainable waste-reduction practices into daily life.
